DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 19-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. "An article of manufacture embodying logic for performing a method of automatic measurement..." is not statutory claim language. It appears Applicant intends to claim a computer readable medium for executing instructions, the instructions being the method steps recited in independent claim 1. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 10, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by McDowell, US Patent 6,931,370. Figures 8 and 9 illustrate a method for measuring the masking effect of a digital audio stream comprising extracting sub-band data, dequantizing and denormalizing the extracted sub-band data (step 126), measuring an audio level for the dequantized and denormalized sub-band data without reconstructing the audio signal (step 130), and comparing the measured audio level against at least one threshold (step 136).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-9 and 11-18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ficco, US Patent Application Publication 2004/0199933.
